

SUSTAINABILITY FACTSHEET

In a world where more and more buildings are being built every minute, and particularly in Lisbon where tourism is at its highest peak, we at Bomporto have consciously chosen to invest in, refurbish and renovate historical buildings.

We see the rehabilitation of this iconic building as the first milestone and commitment to sustainability. We have thus designed the hotel in such a way that both our environmental and social impact is minimised to the lowest possible.

Moreover, we decided to update the infrastructure using materials that not only are more sustainable but that also guarantee better use of natural energies. Today, three years after our opening, most of our sustainable practices are well established and engrained in everyone's teams. However, we are all constantly looking for new and better ways to further our commitment to a brighter and greener future.

According to our General Manager, Nicolas Roucos, who is very passionate about this cause: 'Being environmentally friendly is not enough, we need to first and foremost be friends with the environment'.
